

ERICA BOOKER – Suzuki Piano Teacher Trainer & Teacher

Erica Booker graduated in both Performance and High School Teaching and had a career performing solos, ensembles and concerti, teaching piano at the Conservatorium and in her home studio, teaching senior school music, accompanying, conducting and adjudicating. Her life was changed in 1977 when she discovered the Suzuki Method, and she is now a dedicated and long-term Suzuki Piano Teacher and Teacher Trainer. Erica believes that ‘Every Child Can’ and guides her families to joyfully achieve the highest possible levels of success.

Her smaller hands led Erica to search for a narrower keyed piano from about 2006, and after meeting two like-minded women, the three of them founded Pianists for Alternatively Sized Keyboards, PASK, an international group. <https://paskpiano.org> Erica has four pianos, each with different width keys. This is unique in the world.
